Terms

Your use of the Audit Vannin (AV) website requires that you comply with:

- this policy; and
- the AV Privacy Statement

Copyright

The Tynwald Auditor General (TAG) holds the copyright for information contained within the AV website.

Use of website material

All material available through the AV website may be downloaded, copied or reproduced free of charge in any format or medium without requiring specific permission. This is subject to the material being reproduced accurately and not being used in a derogatory manner or in a misleading context.

Where the material is being published or issued to others, the sources and copyright status must be acknowledged. You should include:

- the full title of the publication
- that it is authored by the TAG of the Isle of Man; and
- the date of publication.

The TAG does not accept responsibility for material hosted on any external sites. If you are maintaining or developing a website, you do not have to ask permission to link directly to pages hosted on the AV website. However, you must not link to information on the AV website in a way that implies a relationship with, or endorsement by the TAG, or which misrepresents AV content as being published by anyone other than the TAG.

Accuracy

The website information could include technical inaccuracies or typographical errors. The TAG has made reasonable efforts to ensure that the information is accurate at the time of inclusion. However, like any printed material, the information may be out of date. The TAG shall not be liable for any error or omission in, or any failure to update, such information and any decisions based on the information are the sole responsibility of the website visitor. The TAG reserves the right to make changes to this website at any time without notice.

Links to external websites

Certain links on this website lead to other websites that will have separate privacy and data collection practices. The TAG has no responsibility or liability for those third-party policies
